

This piece of furniture is constructed of hand-selected salvaged pine.

Salvaged pine is wood that has inherit flaws and would normally be discarded. We value it's uniqueness where it shows signs of age, indentations, worm holes, mineral stains, cracks and knots. We take it a step further by hand-planing rough sawn boards to achieve a one of a kind look that you would find in the most sought after antique stores. Subtle distressing will continue as time passes, as well as, the amount of sunlight that it is exposed to. No two pieces will ever be the same. We're sure you'll value this piece for many years to come.
