

CLEAN AND CARE SUGGESTIONS:

Teak wood is well known for its natural qualities and beauty, for both outdoor and indoor furniture. Teak wood is naturally resistant to mold and mildew. Like all natural materials however, the wood used to make our Teak Shower Bench needs to be maintained so it will last for many years.

It is recommended, that for best results, the bench be dried after each use. Wiping down the bench will help to eliminate a buildup of soap residue, and minerals found in varying degrees in all water.

Periodically clean your bench using a mild solution of warm water, white vinegar, and a small amount of laundry soap.

Mild cleaning solution: To 1 gallon warm water add one cup of white vinegar and a few drops of mild laundry soap.

Washing the bench every couple of months with a soft bristle brush will help to eliminate a soapy build-up and keep your bench looking new. Always start with a mild solution and if build-ups become too severe, you can try a stronger Teak Wood cleaner sold online or at most Home Improvement Centers.

For preservation consult your local hardware or home improvement store for teak wood preservation. Be sure to consider if the teak is being used in the shower or otherwise high moisture area. Also, note some treatment products may have an effect on surrounding surfaces (tile, carpet, linoleum, etc.). Please read and follow all label directions, warnings, or cautions before using.
